The special relationship between the client and the therapist is known as a therapeutic relationship or alliance. It is neither a passing acquaintance, nor a permanent relationship. The two major components of this alliance are the contractual nature and the limited duration of the therapy. The client and the therapist willingly enter into an alliance with the purpose of helping the client overcome their problems. The alliance lasts till the client is able to deal with the problems and take control of their life. It is a relationship based on mutual trust and confidence. A high level of trust is essential to enable the client to vent out their feelings openly and unburden themselves by confiding about their psychological and personal problems to the therapist. The therapist encourages this by being empathetic, genuine, warm and understanding. The therapist ensures the client that they would not be judging them and would continue to have positive feelings towards them even if the client is rude or shares deeds or thoughts that may be 'wrong'. This is the unconditional positive regard that the therapist has for the client.

It is very important that the therapist should have empathy for the client and not sympathy or an intellectual understanding of the other person's situation. In case of sympathy, the person feels pity for the other's suffering but cannot feel like the other person. Intellectual understanding is cold and rational and does not evoke feelings of either compassion or empathy. On the other hand, empathy makes one understand the plight of another and see oneself in the other's shoes. It enables one to see things from the other's perspective. Thus, empathy enriches the therapeutic relationship and transforms it into a healing relationship.

The therapeutic relationship also requires that the therapist maintains strict confidentiality of the feelings, thoughts, actions and experiences disclosed by the client. The therapist must not betray the trust of the client or exploit them in any way. It is a professional relationship, and must remain so.

नीचे दिये गए गद्यांश को पढ़कर पूछे गये प्रश्नों के उत्तर दीजिए।

मनुष्य शारीरिक कष्ट से ही पीछे हटने वाला प्राणी नहीं है। मानसिक
क्लेश की संभावना से भी बहुत-से कर्मों की ओर प्रवृत्त होने का साहस
उसे नहीं होता। जिन बातों से समाज के बीच उपहास, निंदा, अपमान
इत्यादि का भय रहता है, उन्हें अच्छी और कल्याणकारी समझते हुए भी
बहुत से लोग उनसे दूर रहते हैं। प्रत्यक्ष हानि देखते हुए भी कुछ प्रथाओं
का अनुसरण बड़े-बड़े समझदार तक इसलिए करते चलते हैं कि उनके
त्याग से वे बुरे कहे जाएँगे; लोगों में उनका वैसा आदर-सम्मान न रह
जाएगा। उसके लिए मान-ग्लानि का कष्ट सब शारीरिक क्लेशों से बढ़कर
होता है। जो लोग मान-अपमान का कुछ भी ध्यान न करके निंदा-स्तुति
की कुछ भी परवाह न करके किसी कुप्रथा के विरुद्ध पूर्ण तत्परता और
प्रसन्नता के साथ कार्य करते जाते हैं, वे उत्साही और वीर कहलाते हैं।
